Sheffield’s Enteral Feeding team present an interactive study day experience, bringing the patient journey on enteral feeding to life. Our unique study day will follow our actress, ‘Peggy,’ through a real life journey on enteral feeding and will identify how we, as professionals, can help to optimise patient care.

Where?: Rivermead Training Centre, Northern General Hospital, Sheffield, S5,7AU
When?: Monday, 30th April 2018, 9am-5pm

Learning outcomes

By the end of the study day, delegates will be able to:

1. Consider a range of clinical, ethical and social issues related to making the decision to commence enteral feeding
2. Identify the range of enteral feeding tube insertion methods, immediate aftercare and understand the rationale for the method of choice.
3. Understand the different feeding methods available to meet the patient’s individual needs and preferences.
4. Recognise common feeding, tube and stoma related complications and describe management strategies
5. Develop an understanding of the social and psychological impact of enteral feeding on a patient’s quality of life, function and well-being

Cost: £100 per delegate (including £4 booking fee), including a buffet lunch, tea and coffee.

Please follow this link to register and avoid disappointment: https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/enteral-feeding-a-patient-and-professional-perspective-tickets-43089626232